

THE WHITE CROSS

MENU

The White Cross is situated in a refurbished cotton mill warehouse which was part of the old Storey's Cotton Mill that was built next to Lancaster's main canal.

We are a small independent team that took over the pub in 2004 and since then we have grown our business from the bottom up. For us the most important aspect of this business is the customers. The majority of our team have happily been with us for a number of years and we pride ourselves on giving both a warm welcome and the best personal service.

We are a very proud of our Lancashire heritage and we try to use the best local produce wherever possible. For instance, our meat comes from the Vale of Lune and the hills of Cumbria, our vegetables from the plains of South Lancashire and our fish from Fleetwood. The majority of our ales (up to 20 different rotating beers each week) all come from breweries less than 40 miles away.

On behalf of Tim and all the team we hope you enjoy your time at the White Cross.
